When is the final instalment due under the terms settled? If so appears from our Mr Macnaghten's letter that the payment of £1500 referred to by him has to be made after the accessories are completed. So the payment has perhaps to be authorised only after we hear that the accessories are completed. Please refer to the terms & say when the payment is to fall due

2nd March 1909

Dear Mr. Madhava Rao

With reference to my letter dated 20th January 1908, I write to say that I have heard from Mr Colton by this last mail. He says that the accessories are being cast and that one of the tigers will be exhibited in the Royal Academy this year. He hopes that they will be completed about June or July and asks that arrangements may be made to pay the final instalment of £ 1,500 about that time. Will you very kindly have the matter noted.

As regards the statue itself, he has experienced great difficulty in securing a block of marble of the requisite size and quality. He has however done so at last and hopes to get to work on the block in another week or two. I am afraid that the statue is not likely to be ready for another year. However that need not prevent the canopy being pushed on. Apparently work is going on very slowly at Makrana and I shd think it would be a good thing if Captain Dawes could go up there before long and see how things are. The beauty of the edifice will greatly depend on the quality of the marble and it ought to be passed by a responsible officer before it is despatched from the quarries After the £ 1,500 referred to above is paid, the only payment remaining due to Mr Colton will be £ 2,333-6-8, being the final payment on completion of the

Yours sincerely,

E. Macnaghten
